THE

Library BILL of RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

- I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
- II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
- III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
- IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
- V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
- VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 16, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980.

Freedom to Read STATEMENT

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension.

Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untired voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

Other Types of Loans:

An appeal to the suspension of library privileges can be requested for review by the Library Board at their next regular meeting. Patrons will be allowed to keep the damaged materials after they have paid for replacing them and after the library staff has withdrawn the material from the collection.

Staff members will inspect all materials, particularly Audio Visual materials, before checking them in to make certain that the materials are in good condition before re-shelving.

Lost Materials: If a patron pays for replacement of a lost or damaged item, no fines will be charged for that item. Patrons will be assessed the current replacement cost of the item, plus a $2 processing fee. Lost items that have been paid for become the property of the patron. Collection Policy

The purpose of this policy is to guide in the selection of materials and to inform the public of the principles upon which selections are made.

Library Mission

The mission of the Emil M. Larson Public Library is to service all people. This encompasses individuals and groups of every age, education, philosophy, occupation, economic level, ethnicity and human condition. The goal of selection is to provide a collection that meets the informational, educational and recreational needs of our patrons.

Responsibility for Materials Selection

The Emil M. Larson Public Library adopts as part of its policy the following paragraphs from the LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS:

- Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
- Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

Final responsibility for selection of books and library materials is and shall be vested in the librarian. However, the librarian may delegate, to a designated representative the authority and responsibility to interpret and guide the application of the policy in making day to day selections. Print or non-print materials so selected shall be considered as selected by the Library Board.

Criteria For Selection

1. The author's reputation and significance as a writer;
2. The importance of subject matter to the collection;
3. Availability of material in the system, in other libraries, or in print;
4. Timeliness or permanence of the book;

5. Authoritativeness;
6. Inclusion in standard bibliographies or indexes;
7. Price;
8. Format

Scope of the Collection

Materials will be selected which meet the informational, recreational, research and reference needs of the general public. The library recognizes the purposes and resources of other libraries in the community and shall not needlessly duplicate materials.

The Library maintains an interest in local and state history and will strive to acquire print and non-print materials in these areas provided that they are in the public interest. The materials include but are not limited to works about South Dakota and by South Dakota authors and general works relating to South Dakota.

Gifts

Unconditional gifts, donations, and contributions may be accepted by the Librarian or designated representative on behalf of the Library Board. Gifts of donations with specific conditions or restrictions will not be accepted without the approval of the Library Board.

The same standards or selection criteria that govern the purchase of print and non-print materials apply to gifts, donations, and contributions. The Librarian or designated representative may dispose of gifts at their discretion and in accordance with library procedures.

The library staff will not provide appraisals of donated material.

Maintaining the Collection

Systematic withdrawal of materials no longer useful is necessary in order to maintain relevant resources. The same criteria will be used in weeding materials from the collection as are used in the acquisition. The decision to withdraw library material shall be based on the physical condition, use of the material as determined by last date of loan or by number of loans in the last five years, and age of the material as a misinformation factor, especially in the area of the sciences. The Librarian or designee shall withdraw materials from the library collections.

Censorship

The selection of library materials is predicated on the library patrons' right to read and similarly, their freedom from censorship by others. Many materials are controversial and any given item may offend someone. Selections for this library will not, however, be made on the basis of anticipated approval or disapproval, but solely on the merits of the material in relation to the building of the collection and to serving the interests of the readers. This library holds censorship to be a purely individual matter and declares that while anyone is free to reject for themselves books and other materials of which they do not approve they cannot exercise the right of censorship to restrict the freedom of others.

With respect to the use of library materials by children, the decision as to what a minor may read is the responsibility of their parent or guardian. Selection will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may inadvertently come into the possession of minors.

It is the right of any citizen of Clark or library patron to recommend materials for selection consideration by the Emil M. Larson Public Library and it is the obligation of the Librarian and/or Board to consider such recommendations with the same evaluative criteria established above. It is also the right of any citizen of Clark or library patron to question any library material selected by the Emil M. Larson Public Library since opinions may differ in our democracy. Such questions shall be presented in writing on forms developed and made available by the Librarian and shall be specific as to title and nature of the material being questioned.

Confidentiality Policy

The Emil M. Larson Public Library adheres to South Dakota Codified Law 14-2-51. All Public library records containing personally identifiable information are confidential. Any information contained in public library records may not be released except by court order or upon request of a parent of a child who is under 18 years of age. As used in this section, "personally identifiable" means any information a library maintains that would identify a patron. Acts by library officers or employees in maintaining a check out system are not in violation of this section.

It is the policy of the Emil M. Larson Public Library to protect the privacy of those who use the library. Staff and volunteers shall protect information about library patrons, their requests for information and material, the online sites and resources they access, and their loan transactions. Such information will not be transmitted to individuals or to any private or public agency without an order from a court or as otherwise required by law.

- The responsibility for the care, safety, and behavior of children using the library rests with the parent/caregiver or responsible caregiver. It is not the responsibility of the library staff to supervise children.
- Children under the age of 8 years old must be accompanied by a parent/caregiver. A parent or caregiver must remain in the building while children under the age of 8 are attending story times or special events.
- In the event of an unattended or misbehaving child in the library, staff will make reasonable attempts to contact a parent/guardian. If a parent/guardian or responsible caregiver cannot be located and the misbehavior continues, the police will be called.
- Behavior of a child is deemed to be the behavior of the parent/guardian or caregiver. Disruptive behavior by a child that merits suspension or removal from the library building will also merit suspension or removal of the parent/guardian and responsible caregiver.

- Parents/guardians or caregivers are responsible for picking up children prior to closing time. In the event that a child is left after Library hours and no one can be contacted to provide transportation, the staff will call the Clark Police Department for assistance. Staff may not transport children home or to any other destination under any circumstances.

Emil M. Larson Public Library Emergency Procedures Policy

Purpose

The Emil M. Larson Public Library promotes the safety of all patrons and staff. In case of disaster, the following policy will be followed:

For Emergency Situations:

- In case of Fire: Call the fire department at 532-3113 or 911 and clear the building. Library staff should evacuate the patrons and after ensuring that everyone has safely left the building, meet in the West Parking Lot. If the fire is small, in a contained area and of no danger to staff, an attempt to put out the fire with an extinguisher may be made.
- In case of Tornado:
 1. Watch-Patrons will be advised of the situation and conditions will be monitored.
 2. Warning-If the town alarm sounds, patrons and staff will move to restrooms/interior rooms with no windows. Patrons and staff will remain there until an All Clear has been given.
- In the event of an earthquake: patrons should be evacuated out of the building and staff should meet in the West Parking Lot.
- In the Case of a Health Emergency: Staff members and volunteers should exercise caution when administering First Aid of even a minor nature because of the safety of the injured individual and the potential liability of the staff member. The sick or injured patron should be made comfortable and protected from needless disturbance until medical help arrives. The Clark Ambulance (532-5656) or 911 should be called IMMEDIATELY in the event of a head injury or other serious problem. No medication-including aspirin-should ever be dispensed to the public.
- In the event of a severe snowstorm: In the event the public schools close or the weather is of a nature that is dangerous to the staff members, the library may close. Changes in hours should be posted on all library doors. The Librarian will also post closures on all social media. Whenever possible, known cancellations or closures should be posted ahead of time.
- In case of power outage: The library may close after a 2 hour power outage, for safety of the staff and library patrons. The library will remain closed if an outage happens before regular business hours, but will make every effort to open when power is restored.
- In case of a bomb threat: If you receive a bomb threat by phone, remain calm, write down the caller's exact words, and note the time of the call. Check for a caller ID number. Write down all the information you receive. Pay particular attention to peculiar background noises such as motors running, traffic, birds, background music and any other noises, which may indicate where the call is coming from. Listen closely to the voice (male or female), voice quality (calm, angry, excited, nervous) accents and speech impediments. Immediately after the call is complete, call 911 from a landline phone to relay the information to the dispatcher. Evacuate patrons and staff as quickly and calmly as you can. If you receive a bomb threat in written form, notify 911 immediately.
 - Do a quick visual inspection of your area. Do not touch or move suspicious objects.
 - Do not use radios, pagers, or cell phones as they can trigger an explosive device.
 - Evacuate

- In case of active shooter: 1) Run! Know your exits. Leave your personal belongings. Keep hands visible as you exit. 2) Hide! If you cannot exit the building, hide. Barricade yourself. Completely silence cell phones. 3) Fight! Only as a last resort. Once you commit to this step, you must follow through. 4) When it is safe, call 911. Give as many details as possible!

For dangerous or problem behaviors by individuals:

1. Intoxicated, abusive or irate patrons: Abusive behavior does not have to be tolerated. Your personal safety is always a priority! The following is a guideline to help you evaluate your risk:
 - Level One: Patron is showing signs of irritation, frustration or dislike. There is no threatening behavior at Level One. Level one behavior is usually handled by a single employee unless it is clear that the patron is escalating to Level Two.
 - Level Two: Patron may be loud, aggressive or angry. Their behavior becomes very defensive in nature. This level is handled by at least two employees.
 - Level Three: This patron is physically or verbally abusive or is menacing by word or action. Any person who is armed, intoxicated or extremely mentally unstable should be considered in the level three category regardless of their behavior. This is because of the unpredictability in these situations. Call 911 immediately and plan to evacuate or shelter in place if needed. After calling 911, staff should attempt to notify staff in other offices. Staff and patrons should then proceed to evacuate the building or shelter in place.
 - a. If a library patron becomes abusive, remain calm and keep your voice low and firm. Such behavior is usually in response to library policy, not your policy. Ask another staff person to assist you.
 - b. Ask the offender to leave the library. If you observe another colleague in this situation, as if you can be of help.
 - c. Advise the patron that the police will be called if the behavior does not cease. Do not hesitate to call the police when the patron has reached Level Three risk. After calling 911, staff should attempt to warn staff in other offices of a potential situation. If needed, staff and patrons should evacuate the building or shelter in place.

An incident form should be filled out for all of the above behaviors.
